

Tammy L. Willis

Description:

I recently started working with those suffering from Eating Disorders. I too suffered with anorexia nervosa for approximately 3 years and have relapsed 2 times since my first hospitalization. It has always been important to me to work with others who are struggling with these horrible illnesses. There is hope... You just have to REALLY work at it. Types of therapy used in treatment:Individual TherapyFamily TherapyGroup TherapyArt Therapy except medicaid/medicaresome private insurances
