

Amy Alexander

Description:

I am a BACP registered therapist working with people who experience eating problems and disorders. I also work with self harm and personality disorders.

I am fully qualified, supervised and have personal experience of eating distress.

I have offices in north London, 5 minutes walk from public transport. I have an eclectic approach however I am mindful of NICE guidelines and practice to the BACP ethical guidelines. Feel free to ring to and talk over your needs. Muswell Hill
