

Valerie Taylor, M.A., LMFT, LLP

Description:

I provide individual, couples and group psychotherapy. I am an open and compassionate therapist, and believe that you should find a therapist who is a good fit, and am happy to help you find a referral if I'm not the right one! I am interested in understanding how eating disorders help with coping and also the intersection of eating issues with childhood trauma, sexuality, and pregnancy and mothering. I also work with couples and partners of those with eating and body image issues.
