

Adolescent Eating Disorder Therapist

Description:

Jill Lewis is a MA and LMSW who provides individual, couples and family therapy for people struggling with anorexia, bulimia and compulsive overeating/obesity. She also works with individuals who suffer from depression, addiction, anxiety, and relationship issues. She received her bachelors degree in education from the University of Georgia. She received a masters of the arts from New York University as well as a masters degree in social casework from Yeshiva University. Jill Lewis has been working in the field for the last two years and works as a primary therapist at the Renfrew Center of New York. She maintains a private practice in Manhattan, New York.

Throughout her career, Jill has specialized in working with adolescents and children. Jill was the director of the Traveling Teen Camp with the 92nd Street Y. Jill has worked in various schools providing group and individual therapy surrounding body image and female struggles.

Country: USA

State: New York

City: New York

Zip: 10075

Website: <http://www.jlewistherapy.com/>