

Family-Based Treatment Research

Description:

Our research team is conducting a study to investigate parents' unique experiences of participating in family-based treatment. We are recruiting 25 parents who have participated in family-based treatment for a child or adolescent with anorexia nervosa.

What is the process?

- Participants will contact the researcher
- The researcher will email information about the study and a demographic questionnaire
- Participants will review the information about the study and, if they consent to participate, will complete and mail the demographic questionnaire to the researcher
- Some participants will be invited to participate in a 60-90 minute interview which may occur in person, via telephone, or via web chat

This study is being conducted by Joanna Wiese and Megan Foley Nicpon, PhD. If you are interested in participating, please contact Joanna Wiese at 563-676-2500 or joanna-wiese@uiowa.edu.
