

Uniting Couples in the Treatment of Anorexia Nervosa (UCAN): An Anorexia Study for Couples

Description:

The UNC Center of Excellence for Eating Disorders is studying two different treatments intended to help couples in which one partner has a diagnosis of Anorexia Nervosa (AN). Eligible couples will receive 23 weeks of study-related treatment from the UNC Center of Excellence for Eating Disorders team at no cost and payment for participating in additional assessments. If you are 18 years or older and married or have been in a committed relationship with your partner for at least 6 months, you may be eligible. One partner must have a diagnosis of AN, and both partners must speak English. All research related therapy and evaluations are offered at no cost.

More information is available at <http://www.med.unc.edu/psych/eatingdisorders/our-research/anorexia-studies/ucan-uniting-couples-in-the-treatment-of-anorexia-nervosa>. Please contact the research coordinator, Kate Nowlan, at 919-843-2483 or email ucan@unc.edu for more info.

Address Line 1: 101 Manning Drive CB #7160

Country: USA

State: North Carolina

City: Chapel Hill

Zip: 27599-7160

Website:

<http://www.med.unc.edu/psych/eatingdisorders/our-research/anorexia-studies/ucan-uniting-couples-in-the-treatment-of-anorexia-nervosa>