

Tania Coiner, Ph.D.

Description:

I have a Ph.D. in Clinical Psychology and have received postgraduate training in the area of Eating and the Body (Women's Therapy Centre Institute). In my practice I see individuals who have conflicts around eating and their relationship to their bodies (compulsive/binge eating, purging, compulsive exercise/dieting, laxative abuse). I have a background in college counseling and often see young adults, but I have experience and interest in working with all ages.
