

Abigail H. Natenshon MA, LCSW, BCD

Description:

Abigail H. Natenshon, MA LCSW BCD a recognized psychotherapist, author and speaker with 29 years expertise, specializes in the treatment of eating disorders with individuals, families and groups. Ms. Natenshon contends that though not the cause of their child's illness, parents are the best line of defense against eating disorders as advocates of prevention and recovery. As co-founder and director of "Eating Disorder Specialists of Illinois: A Clinic Without Walls," she consults with schools, parents, and social service organizations and supervises clinicians and graduate students of social work. She has been part of the adjunct teaching faculties of several Illinois graduate schools of social work. Ms. Natenshon conducts workshops and lectures widely on the topic of eating disorders. She has published widely in magazines and newspapers, and has made numerous appearances on television, national radio and the Internet. Her most recent book, "When Your Child Has an Ea

Address Line 1: 271 Hazel Ave.

Country: USA

State: Illinois

City: Highland Park

Zip: 60035

Website: <http://www.empoweredparents.com>