

Nada Mangialetti, Ph.D.

Description:

Pre-therapy group: Marathon weekend for sufferers and family members. Save time and money by getting a lot of information about eating disorders in one weekend of classes, instead of dragging it out over many weeks of expensive individual therapy. Link with others in the same boat. Learn what you would need to do to get over this! Individual therapy: Sliding-scale fee so that just about anyone can afford it. No insurance payments or managed care intrusions, so you can be assured of confidentiality and of continuing care as long as YOU want it. Put into practice what you learned in the pre-therapy marathon weekend.
