

Center for Change

Description:

Private Center for Women Struggling with Anorexia and/or Bulimia The Center for Change offers a multi-disciplinary, stepped-care treatment program exclusively for women with eating disorders. Levels of treatment include inpatient care (for those needing 24-hour intervention and medical treatment), day treatment, intensive outpatient and outpatient care. Assessments and weekly support groups are also offered. Intensive treatment (including frequent individual/group/family therapy, art/dance/recreation therapy, and nutritional counseling) is provided in a cost-effective manner which does not compromise treatment. We believe in each person's innate capacity for healing and growth. With proper help and treatment, women suffering from eating disorders have an excellent opportunity for recovery.
